One of the Pharisees asked Jesus to eat with him, and he went into the Pharisee's house and took his place at the table. And a woman in the city, who was a sinner, having learned that he was eating in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster jar of ointment. She stood behind him at his feet, weeping, and began to bathe his feet with her tears and to dry them with her hair. Then she continued kissing his feet and anointing them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw it, he said to himself, "If this man were a prophet, he would have known who and what kind of woman this is who is touching him -- that she is a sinner." Jesus spoke up and said to him, "Simon, I have something to say to you." "Teacher," he replied, "Speak." "A certain creditor had two debtors; one owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. When they could not pay, he cancelled the debts for both of them. Now which of them will love him more?" Simon answered, "I suppose the one for whom he canceled the greater debt." And Jesus said to him, "You have judged rightly."

THE PROCLAMATION OF THE WORD

Collect for the Day p. 362
Earlier, King Ahab of Israel accepted God’s help in freeing his kingdom from foreign domination, but now he wants a vineyard which must, by law and religious custom, remain in Naboth’s family. He and Queen Jezebel fall from God’s favour through her devious means of acquiring the land for him.

First Lection 1 Kings 21:1-10, 15-21a Ralph Nobes
Psalm 5:1-8 p. 708
Earlier, Peter has eaten with Gentiles, but now, under pressure from conservative Jewish Christians, he has ceased to do so. Paul has challenged him for “not acting consistently with the truth of the gospel”.

Second Lection Galatians 2:15-21 Mark Haslett
Hymn #441 vs. 1 & 2 Thee Will I Love, My Strength, My Tower
It may seem odd to us, but in Jesus’ time entering someone else’s house without invitation was normal behaviour. Jesus would be reclining at the table with his legs away from it, so perhaps the woman anointed his feet rather than his head out of humility and gratitude for his good news.
